

The independance of media is the most important issue to a free market and democracy. It is sad that I have to take time out of my busy day to remind both polititions and business interests that the airways belong to the american public and the insidious theft of this resource will be the undoing of our republic. I demand that corporate ownership of all media be highly regulated and extremely limited.